|
I am going to the Dallas Zoo.	People wait in line at the ticket booth.	I use signs and maps to find my way around.
The cement path takes me to the animal exhibits.	The animals are behind a fence or glass.	I can wave and talk quietly to the animals.
Sometimes the animals are playing where I can't see them.	There is a tunnels with lights and sounds.	If it is loud I can put on headphones.
I can ask a person in a green shirt for help.	Sometimes, I need to use the restroom.	The exit signs show me the way out.